

METHOD AND APPARATUS FOR MEASURING PERFORMANCE OF A LAMP

Abstract

A light source testing system includes a light source to form an image, an image capturing apparatus capturing the image by a plurality of pixels, and an image processing apparatus calculating a plurality of gray levels of the plurality of pixels to determine a characteristic parameter of the light source.